

LEMOSHO ROUTE (PREMIUM)

8 Days / 7 Nights

Lemosho Route (Premium)

Duration: 8 Days / 7 Nights

Type: Private Safari

Main Focus: Adventure

Country: Tanzania

The 8-day Lemosho Route is a popular and highly successful climbing path on Mount Kilimanjaro, known for its scenic beauty and high summit success rate. It begins at the Lemosho Gate on the mountain's western flank and merges with the Machame Route after the Shira Plateau. The route is designed to provide ample time for acclimatization, which is crucial for adapting to the high altitude. It is often considered one of the most beautiful and successful routes for summiting Africa's highest peak.

Expert recommendation

This is an excellent choice for first-time Kilimanjaro climbers seeking a balance between challenge, scenery, and success rate. For even more gradual acclimatization, consider the Lemosho 9-day route.

Note: If you prefer the 7- or 9-day mountain option, ask us for that schedule and pricing band.

DAY-BY-DAY ITINERARY

Day 1: Arrival

Arrival at Kilimanjaro International Airport (JRO), where you will meet a Kilimanjaro Explore representative and transfer to your hotel under the package. The hotel provides comfortable rooms, hot water, helpful staff, a swimming pool, and internet access. In the evening there will be a briefing with your trip coordinator to confirm readiness for the climb.

Private tour packages typically include shared airport transfers for your group. Extra charges may apply for separate transfers — coordinate arrival times with your consultant.

Please note: Hotel check-in often starts at 2:00 PM.

Day 2: Lemosho Gate to Mti Mkubwa

Your guide and mountain support crew meet you at the hotel. You then travel by vehicle (roughly 3–4 hours) to Kilimanjaro National Park's western entrance, Lemosho Gate (2,100 m / 6,890 ft), where you will complete entry formalities. We will patiently wait for our permits and enjoy lunch before commencing your trek through lush undisturbed forest, where you may be lucky enough to see Colobus monkeys. The path undulates, steeply in places. At these lower elevations, the trail can be muddy and quite slippery. We highly recommend gaiters and trekking poles here. At camp, we prepare tents and dinner for you.

Please note: From this altitude onward:

- Drink 3–4+ liters of water daily, little and often.
- Discuss altitude medication with your doctor before travel; your coordinator can explain common approaches.
- At night, shallow breathing can mean less oxygen—report headache, nausea, or any illness to your guide immediately.

Trekking time: 5–6 hours | Distance: ~7 km (4 miles)

Day 3: Mti Mkubwa to Shira 1 Camp

Along the challenging but rewarding Shira Route that scales Mt Kilimanjaro, Shira Camp 1 is above the tree line, sitting on high-altitude, treeless plains at 3810m above sea level. From the camp you can see both the Kibo volcanic cone (to the north-east) and Mount Meru (west). It's not as busy as some of the camps along other climbing routes, so it can be nice and quiet.

Day 4: Shira 1 Camp to Shira 2 camp

The trail crosses open moorland and offers stunning views of Kilimanjaro's western slopes. This moderate trek provides an excellent opportunity for acclimatization, with plenty of time to enjoy the scenic surroundings before reaching Shira II for overnight rest.

Acclimatization hike: Shira 1 (3,610 m/11,843 ft) toward a point en route to Shira II Hut (3,850 m/12,631 ft)

Trekking time: 6–7 hours | Distance: ~10 km (6 mi)

Day 5: Shira 2 to Lava Tower and Barranco Camp

After breakfast, leave Shira 2 and hike toward Lava Tower — a key acclimatization point. This section has many ups and downs; you may feel the altitude. You should spend at least 1–2 hours high at Lava Tower (~4,600 m / 15,091 ft), including lunch, to help your body adjust.

Then you descend to Barranco Camp. Ahead lies the famous Barranco Wall, which you climb the next morning. The wall looks dramatic from below but follows a non-technical hiking trail.

Trekking time: 6–8 hours | Distance: ~12 km (7.4 mi)

Barranco Camp

Day 6: Barranco Wall to Karanga Camp

Early start and breakfast, then ascend the Barranco Wall. We recommend leaving camp early to avoid congestion from other groups. The wall usually takes about an hour; it is a hike, not a climb. Afterward, rest and photograph Kibo across the valley.

Continue over rolling terrain to Karanga Camp. After a warm lunch and a short rest, complete an acclimatization hike toward Barafu with a modest gain, then return to Karanga.

Please note: Acclimatization walks are a core part of summit success — follow your guide's pace.

Acclimatization hike: Karanga (~3,995 m) toward a point en route to Barafu (~4,335 m) — about 2.5 km, 1–2 hours.

Trekking time (main): 4–5 hours | Distance: ~5 km (3.1 mi)

Day 7: Karanga to Barafu Camp

After a warm breakfast, hike to Barafu Summit Camp — the last camp before Uhuru. Your crew prepares tents and sleeping gear so you can rest. Hydrate, eat, and sleep in the afternoon; the summit push normally starts around midnight.

Trekking time: 4–5 hours | Distance: ~6 km (3.7 mi)

Day 8: Uhuru Peak and descent to Millennium Camp

You leave Barafu at night for the final ascent to Uhuru Peak (5,895 m / 19,340 ft). The climbing is technically straightforward, but altitude makes every step harder. Typically two climbers share one guide on summit night for closer monitoring.

After the summit, you may view nearby ice, then descend to Barafu for a rest, and continue down to Millennium Camp in the forest.

Please note: The majority of injuries on Kilimanjaro happen on the descent — watch your footing and protect your toes.

Trekking time: 8–12 hours | Distance: ~15 km (9.3 mi)
